There were 9 Draft resolutions to be considered by the Standing Committee. Two of these Draft Resolutions (I.e. Roadmap for Green Finance and Asian Climate Financial Initiative) which were initiated by delegation of Russian Federation were merged and a new draft resolution titled: "Asian Climate Financial Initiative" was offered to the Committee. Your Excellencies

Distinguished guests

Peace be upon you, having to say

In the beginning, it gives us great pleasure for your presence in the Kingdom of Bahrain to participate in the work of the Standing Committee on Economic and Sustainable Development of the Asian Parliamentary Assembly, wishing you and the work of your meeting all the success. We all look forward to achieving the goals of deepening cooperation between the Asian continent's States.

The Kingdom of Bahrain makes Asian cooperation a focal point for its priorities, based on the keen interest of His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa, the great King of the country, and His Majesty's wise insights, directives, and invitations to address the challenges and priority issues of concern to peoples and States and to realize the aspirations of understanding and sustainable partnership.

We, in Bahrain's legislative authority, place particular importance and push for more efforts within the framework of parliamentary diplomacy to strengthen bilateral and multilateral Asian parliamentary cooperation. As well as we are looking to raise the level of the influential role of the Asian Parliamentary Assembly and enable it to achieve its broad and diverse objectives such as peace, knowledge-sharing, and the exploitation of human and natural resources for mutual benefit and to make the Assembly as a platform for parliamentarians to develop common strategies to enhance security and stability in Asia and the world.

Ladies and gentlemen,

In the midst of talking about economics and sustainable development, there is an urgent need to draw attention to the reality of the balance between power and challenges. In particular, the 2023 Sustainable Development Agenda requires a serious commitment from a range of actors to implement it, at the heart of this lies the role of parliaments, on many emerging issues like adapting to climate change. Despite Asia is a continent with a diversified ecology and culture, however, it includes the countries most affected by climate change, such as drought and floods, resulting in threats to food security, health, infrastructure and biodiversity. Although Asia being the largest of the world's continents in terms of population and fastest economic growth, but integration is required to the extent that it enhances trade, investment, communications, energy, and the preservation of shared cultural heritage.

To open the way for further progress, we need to promote dialogue among Asian parliaments, invest the wealth of expertise and experience in Asia, and put them for cooperation and common strategies, translate them into the national legislation of Asian States, benefit from parliamentary diplomacy in the economic, political and cooperation development among our States and coordinate positions and visions in regional and international forums.

In conclusion, I welcome you again to the Kingdom of Bahrain, the land of peace, the cradle of civilizations, and the center for rapprochement, coexistence, and development. I would like to commend the efforts of the Standing Committee on Economic and Sustainable Development under the chairmanship of H.E. MP

Ahmed Sabah Al-Saloom, Vice-President of the Asian Parliamentary Assembly, and its substantive issues. We aspire to produce valuable outcomes, beneficial initiatives, and desirable resolutions that will broaden the scope of cooperative parliamentary action in Asia.

Peace be upon you!

Peace be upon you,

It gives me great pleasure to welcome Their Excellencies brothers and sisters, in the parliaments of the Member States participating in the meeting of the Committee on Economic and Sustainable Development of the Asian Parliamentary Assembly, in their second country, and we wish you all a fruitful stay in the Kingdom of Bahrain. We would like to thank and appreciate the Assembly and the members for the efforts made to provide the means and keenness to the convening of our periodic Asian meetings to build bridges of cooperation and exchange views for all that would consolidate relations, decision-making and enhance ways of joint cooperation between the parliaments of Member States, with our aspiration that this meeting will achieve its desired goals.

I am also pleased and honored to chair this meeting of Your Esteemed Committee, which discusses many important and sensitive resolutions on pivotal issues within the framework of sustainable development in a manner that strengthens the frameworks of Asian solidarity and cooperation and serves all parties and in all fields, in particular the economic and development fields.

Your Excellency Members

The Kingdom of Bahrain attaches particular importance to sustainable development and a permanent priority emerging from the royal approach of His Majesty King Hamad bin Isa Al Khalifa, the great King of the country, and Bahrain's Economic Vision 2030, that is based on sustainability, fairness, and competitiveness, and in light of the efforts made by the distinguished government, led by His Royal Highness Prince Salman bin Hamad Al Khalifa, the Crown Prince and Prime Minister, to translate the principles and values of numerous steps, projects, and initiatives and place them on the implementation ladder, as well as to achieve a rapprochement between the government's action plan and programs while attempting to achieve sustainable development goals. This demonstrates the Kingdom's dedication to accomplishing these objectives in addition to its proactive participation within the international community, to achieve what helps to establishing a better future for nations and peoples.

As you all know, the items listed on the agenda of our meetings, under the framework of sustainable development are not instantaneous, but to continue searching and revealing the challenges facing the regions and peoples of Asian States. This has a close connection and relationship with the work of the Committee and the innovative proposals and initiatives whose content are focused in light of discussing its draft resolutions like the economic growth, poverty eradication, water and sanitation, environmental and climate issues and incentive measures for green financing and others, all of them have the same priority and form a major challenge on which our States are keen to build national efforts and take advanced steps at the level of their legislative system and executive resolutions.

Hence, such meetings are considered as an opportunity that requires us to continue further cooperation, solidarity, consultation, and constructive joint work at various levels towards crucial issues and challenges of common interest, and dealing with data to reach unified visions, perceptions and impactful solutions to push for consensual and participatory pathways to be able to present them to our Governments for adoption and take action, which will contribute to achieving a quantum leap in achieving the goals, and will be positively mirrored in addressing issues of sustainable development.

In conclusion, I welcome you again and thank you for this opportunity, hoping to come up with a consensus that brings us closer to the aspirations and hopes that everyone aspires to the issues under discussion and the adoption of resolutions as an added step to the course of our joint Asian parliamentary work. Let us begin this meeting with God's blessing.

Peace be upon you!

Mr. President,

Dear Colleagues

It is an honor and privilege for me to be here again in Manama since my latest visit in March on the occasion of the 146 IPU Assembly. It is also a great pleasure to welcome you all, the honorable members of the Standing Committee on Economic and Sustainable Development and other distinguished participating delegations at this first round of the meetings of the APA Standing Committees in 2023.

On behalf of all the participants, my colleagues at the APA Secretariat and myself, allow me to express my heartfelt gratitude to the Parliament of the Kingdom of Bahrain for the excellent organization of the meeting and generous hospitality extended to us here in Manama, the Capital City of the Kingdom of Bahrain.

Dear Colleagues,

As an active member of the APA, the Kingdom of Bahrain has spared no efforts to promote Asian Cooperation through greater involvement in parliamentary affairs at regional and international levels. Nominating itself as the APA Vice-President, chairing and hosting meetings of the APA Standing Committee on Economic and Sustainable Development on several occasions on one hand and on the other holding the 146 IPU Assembly last March in here in Manama are clear indications of Bahrain's interest to promote and strengthen parliamentary diplomacy.

Dear Colleagues,

Before I conclude my remarks, I would like to share the idea on how the APA Members can be encouraged to follow up on resolutions and outcomes that come out of any APA meetings and the impact of our deliberations and decisions at the APA meetings in the national legislations. I am confident that your contribution in this respect will help us to advance our programs within the framework of the development plan intended to be pursued by the APA Secretariat for restructuring and revitalization of our organization in the best way possible. Report of the APA Secretary General

Mr. Chairman,
Distinguished Delegate,
Dear Colleagues,

I have the honor to welcome you all to the first APA Standing Committee meeting in year 2023. At the same time, allow me to seize this opportunity to thank the Council of Representative of the Kingdom of Bahrain for accepting to take over the APA Vice-Presidency and host as the chair of this important meeting in the magnificent capital city of Manama.

As you may recall, at the virtual meeting of the Committee held by the Kingdom of Bahrain in May 2021, six draft resolutions out of eight, were considered and adopted by consensus. At this meeting the draft resolution on "Financial Affairs: Ensuring Efforts for Economic Growth" and "Water and Sanitation in Asia for All", were deferred to the next SC meeting for further consideration. Furthermore, the Russian delegation as the author of the draft resolution "Adopting a Roadmap Providing for Measures to Stimulate Green Finance" and "Asian Climate Financial Initiative" has merged the two draft Resolutions and tabled it as a new draft resolution to this meeting. Therefore, today we have 7 draft resolutions for your consideration.

Dear Colleagues,
Distinguished Delegate,

Since I took office as the APA Secretary General, I was preoccupied with APA reform process, as I firmly believe that APA as a dynamic organization ought to constantly work out a revitalization program and put it at the top of its Agenda. In this endeavor, we managed to establish the Working Group on Statutory Documents in 2018 in Rize, Turkiye to give an impetus to this process.

As an extremely important process, this issue was also pinpointed by the APA President, H.E. Professor SENTOP, during the 13th APA Plenary in January, 2023 in Antalya, Turkiye. At this meeting we noticed that the APA president specifically referred to the need for application of some changes in the current structure, regulations as well as reinforcing the Institutional efficiency and Payment Contribution if we are seeking to transform the APA into an important Parliamentary Forum. To make such structural visions come true, the APA President, proposed Expert Groups to be established on the basis of regional distribution.

In light of the foregoing, I would like to categorize this reform plan into the following two main groups of issue:

- I. APA structure and regulations
- II. APA working method

As regards the first category, we have already established the WG on Statutory Documents to revisit and update the Basic Documents of the organization. Therefore, all the new suggestions and amendments to the APA institution, structure, objectives and regulations are to be covered by the WG. The WG held its First Session in December 2021 in Urgup, Turkiye and the Second Session of the WG is scheduled for July 03-5 in Iran.

Regarding the Second category, as you are aware since the establishment of our Organization in 2006, APA followed the customary procedure (Method of Work) established by international organization, particularly UN&IPU, to deal with the entrusted job when the Standing Committees, Executive Council, Plenary and the Bureau meets at scheduled intervals.

As the time passes, it seems that we need to change or introduce new effective and applicable procedures in order to streamline and accelerate the process of the adoption of the documents.

With this mindset, I sent you a letter inviting you to contribute to a brain storming session to discuss this important topic. In fact, the idea behind this innovation session was to set precedence in our strategy to continue holding such meetings in future if we are eager to witness specific changes needed to be made in the work of Standing Committees. I am quite confident that with some effective changes in the method of the work of the APA meetings, we shall certainly do our job in amore productive and fruitful way.

Following items are some of the suggested reform procedures applicable to the work of the Standing Committees:

- Presentation of a brief report by the national parliaments on the implementation of the recommendations cited in the resolutions by the APA delegations at the SC meeting.
- Changing the current procedure regarding the drafting exercise and to differentiate among the draft resolutions as redundant, outdated or relevant with a vision tuned with the reform initiatives.
- Encouraging delegations to submit and table new draft resolutions pertinent to the work of SC with due respect to the current global developments
- Adoption of new theme/subject for the new draft resolutions to be submitted to the concerned Standing Committees for consideration.
- Establishing procedure for the removal of the outdated resolutions from the agenda of the SC.

Dear Colleagues,
Distinguished Delegate,

In conclusion, I would like to underline that the prerequisite for the success and active involvement in the international and inter-regional affairs of an international organization solely depends on political will and commitments of the member countries. Active participation in all events and gatherings, financial contribution to the work of the organization, implementation of the recommendation and decisions, commitments to the charter and goals of the organization, taking up the leadership and high posts and hosting the meetings, are amongst other key factors leading to the success of any international organization.

Thank you very much for your kind attention
